I-What is Registered Exporter System-REX?

REX system

A system of certification of origin of goods based on a principle of self-certification.

 The REX IT system has been developed by the European Commission & is made available to the Member States of the EU, to the GSP beneficiary countries & to the Overseas Countries & Territories (OCTs).

Statements on origin

Origin of goods is declared by economic operators themselves by means.

Registered exporter

To be entitled to make out a statement on origin, an economic operator has to be registered in a database by his competent authorities.

- Exporters are registered in a database by Competent Authorities to be entitled to apply the system.
- No change on rules for determining the Origin.

I.I Functionalities of the REX IT system

Registration of exporters

Exporters apply to become registered exporters by filling in an application form and by returning it to their competent authorities. The competent authorities register exporters who submit complete and correct application forms.

Modification of registration data once registered, a registered exporter has the obligation to communicate to his competent authorities all changes on his registered data. The competent authorities then perform the modifications in the REX system for the registered exporter.

Revocation of exporters in some cases, a registered exporter will be revoked from the REX system. This can happen for instance if the company ceases to exist or if the registered exporter commits fraud. Depending on the reason, the revocation is done either on request of the registered exporter or on the initiative of the competent authorities.

I.II Application of the REX system in the GSP scheme of the EU

- REX system applies since 1 January 2017 in the GSP (Standard GSP, GSP+ and EBA)
 - This has progressively replaced the former system of origin certification based on CO Form A issued by issuing authorities and on invoice declarations made out under certain conditions by economic operators.
-  Norway, Switzerland and Turkey have in their GSP scheme rules similar to the ones of the GSP scheme of the EU. Therefore, the REX system is also applicable in the GSP schemes of those 3 countries.
